FUNTICO

PRESENTS

$100,000+ prize pool tournament in the Q2 of 2024.

The prize pool includes epic NFTs collections among others Pudgy Penguins, PGodjira, and Lazy Lions, as well as Funtico's NFTs and Token ($TICO). Prizes will be distributed as NFTs. If the price of the NFT fluctuates below the one advertised at tournament start - Funtico will supplement the prize through other NFTs or $TICO to meet the initial promised value.
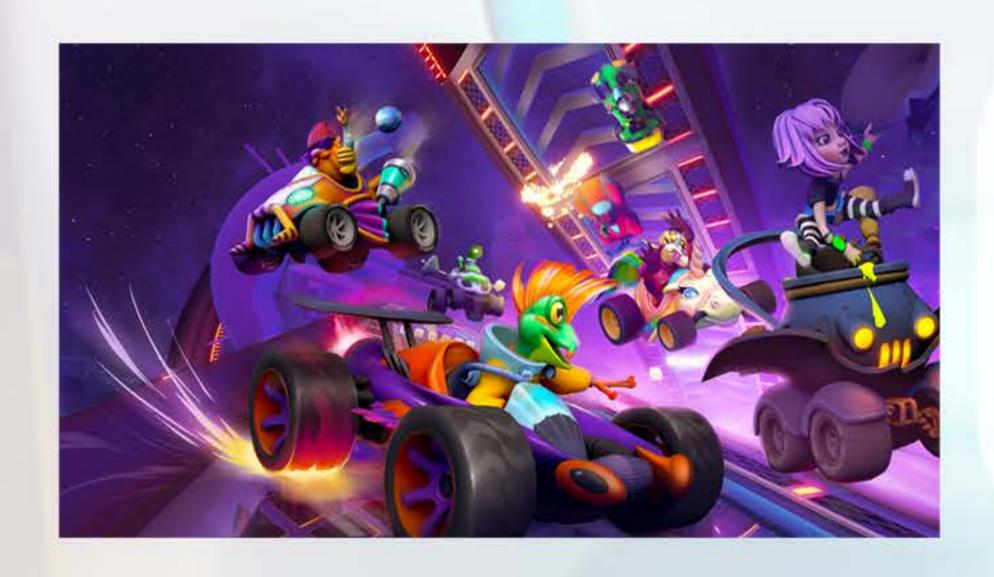

FORMULA FUNTICO

The tournament will take place in Formula Funtico, a racing game on the Funtico platform, in 2 phases - semifinals and finals. It's a leaderboard championship played against NPC opponents for best track time.

Participants who have obtained finals tickets through Summoners NFTs need not participate in the semifinals phase, but may choose to do so to win additional finals ticket.

For the duration of the tournament, players will have access to the semifinals track. They may practice the map and the mechanics as much as they want. However, once they burn a semifinals ticket to try for leaderboard position, the map will feature a twist, to increase the challenge.

The finals track will be unknown to every player and no practice runs will be possible for this phase, though the free map will remain available to players who want to polish their skills.
